Ø<ßÛþ The Studex Group

Studex is a South African luxury food and commodities group — built to compete globally. We own the supply chain from farm to customer, powered by AI agents running 24/7 on virtual machines.

Our core belief: the future of business is agentic. Autonomous agents running around the clock, coordinated by a CEO agent that reports to a human founder. Tumelo Ramaphosa sets the vision, builds relationships, and closes the deals. The agents handle everything else.

"Every CEO needs a founder who believes."

— Tumelo Ramaphosa, Founder

What Sets Us Apart

&* 100% Halal Certified

Every product, every supplier — certified and verified. No compromises.

Ø<ßÛþ Full Provenance

Every cut shows the farm, breed, and slaughter date.

Ø>Ý Direct Farm Access

No middlemen. We know every farmer by name.

Ø>Ý AI Operations

Autonomous agents running 24/7.

Ø=ÜÖ Our Story — 10 Years Building SA's Premium Meat Brand

Ten years ago, Tumelo Ramaphosa set out to build South Africa's most trusted premium meat brand — one built on integrity, halal integrity, and the belief that Black-owned South African businesses could compete at the highest level.

From those first Wagyu biltong batches to today's nationwide operation, Studex has stayed true to one principle: your clients deserve to know exactly where their meat comes from — every single time.

Today, Studex Meat serves clients across South Africa — from families wanting the finest biltong for their Sunday braai, to corporate clients seeking premium gift boxes.

"Our 100% halal commitment is non-negotiable. Every supplier, every product, every time — verified and certified."

— Tumelo Ramaphosa, Founder
